

The Centrix Bureau Score

Using the Score

- Use the score to assist your credit decision processes
- Make faster, more accurate and more consistent credit decisions
- Can be applied to application processing, account management or collection strategies

The Centrix Bureau Score has been developed to assist you with your credit decisioning process. Make faster and more accurate decisions, identify risk and unlock accounts that may have a higher credit potential.

About the Score

The Centrix Bureau Score uses past analysis of the bureau database to predict the odds of an account going into a “bad state” of 90 days + in arrears, default, Judgment or Insolvency within the next 12 months.

The range of the score is 1 – 1000. The higher the score the lower the risk.

Using the score graphic example, a score of 560 indicates risk odds of 4: 1, meaning that credit providers can expect 4 good performing accounts for every 1 bad performing account over the next 12 months for a score in this range.
